Mr. Klug's Corner

As many of you have already met, or will soon meet, with your child's teacher to discuss how things are going academically, socially, emotionally, and most importantly, spiritually, I pray that those conversations are a blessing to you and your family.

One of the things I love most about our Lutheran school is that we truly are a family. We care for one another, encourage one another, and love one another. Is it always perfect? Of course not! But what family is? Our students won't always agree or get along, and there will certainly be moments when mistakes are made and feelings are hurt. Yet, even in those moments, we have wonderful opportunities to teach our children about kindness, forgiveness, grace, and respect. We remind them that each of us is a child of God, loved beyond measure, forgiven, and saved through Jesus Christ.

Every school day brings its share of smiles, laughter, and sometimes even tears. There are good days and hard days, moments of celebration and moments of challenge. But through it all, we walk together. We listen, encourage, comfort, forgive, and celebrate with one another because that's what families do.

What makes Bethlehem special isn't that everything always goes perfectly. It's that Christ is at the center of all we do. His love guides us, His forgiveness strengthens us, and His grace reminds us that each new day is an opportunity to grow together.

As we continue through this school year, I encourage you to remember that the partnership between home and school is such an important part of your child's growth. We are on the same team, working toward the same goal of helping our children grow in faith, knowledge, character, and love for one another.

Thank you for entrusting your children to us, for supporting our teachers, and for being part of the Bethlehem family. What a blessing it is to be Stronger Together!

Week 12 Parenting Tip: Growing Grateful Hearts
November is a wonderful time to help our children develop an attitude of gratitude. Encourage your child to share one thing they are thankful for each day, whether it's a friend, a teacher, a family member, or a simple blessing. Remind them that everything we have is a gift from God. When we practice thankfulness, we help our children focus on their blessings and develop hearts filled with joy, kindness, and appreciation.

"Give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you." – 1 Thessalonians 5:18 (ESV)

The faculty and staff at Bethlehem will include the following students in our prayers during the coming week:
