Mr. Klug's Corner

It is hard to believe we are already almost completed Week 2 of the school year! As we move beyond the excitement of the first few days, our students and staff are beginning to settle into routines, build relationships, and find their rhythm for the year ahead.

Thank you for the patience, encouragement, and support you have shown as we continue to work through the little adjustments that come with the beginning of a new school year. Each week provides opportunities for us to learn, grow, and improve. We are grateful to have families who partner with us along the way.

Our theme this year, Stronger Together, is already coming to life in so many ways. Whether it is an older student helping a younger student, a teacher encouraging a child through a challenge, or families supporting our school community, we are reminded that God has brought us together for a purpose.

As we head further into September, please continue to keep our students, teachers, staff, and families in your prayers. We are excited to see what God has in store for BLS!

New this year will be the addition of a weekly parenting tip.

Week 2 Parenting Tip: Ask About the Good Stuff

Instead of simply asking, "How was school today?" try asking a more specific question such as, "What made you smile today?" "Who did you help today?" or "What is something new you learned?"

Specific questions often lead to better conversations and give children an opportunity to share parts of their day that might otherwise go unmentioned. Those few minutes of conversation can also reinforce the important connection between home and school.

Rick Zeuner's Fall Bible Study Series at Bethlehem

Master teachers have always used the gift of storytelling to drive home important messages. Through storytelling, we connect not only to the deeper messages but also to the story teller. No one could do a better job of this than Jesus. Over the course of eight weeks this fall, we will look at a variety of parables in both the Old and New Testaments. Join us as we dive into God's Word and see how those stories have meaning and importance in our lives today.

Where: Bethlehem Church, 1121 Georgia Ave.

When: 9/14, 9/21, 10/5, 10/19, 10/26, 11/2, 11/9, 11/16, from 6:00-7:00pm.

Underneath that, in a smaller, italicized, dark blue font, it says "Help us raise funds for the school and organize fun events!". Then, in a bold, orange font, it says "Please join us on". Below that, in a bold, blue font, it says "Monday Sept 14th". Finally, in a bold, blue font, it says "at 6:00 - 7:00PM".
